

Alcohol Care & Management in the General Hospital Setting Seminar

Bradford Royal Infirmary 9.30 am – 4 pm
Monday 17th October 2011

Free to nurses and alcohol workers working for statutory and non-statutory services, with an interest in alcohol work in hospitals or other healthcare settings.

This seminar will provide opportunity for staff working in the North of England to meet with others working in this field. There will be time to discuss the issues they face, and consider techniques they have found helpful in promoting good practice.

Other interested parties (including commissioners, service managers) may wish to enquire about availability of places which are limited. The focus will be on alcohol work in the General Hospital, but colleagues from other settings are encouraged to attend – especially those developing alcohol work in primary care and other community services.

This seminar follows similar Alcohol Liaison Seminars in Birmingham (2006), Soho (2007), Ashby-De-La-Zouch (2008), St Marys Hospital Paddington (2009), and London Guildhall (2010) and will take place in The Sovereign Lecture Theatre, Bradford Royal Infirmary.

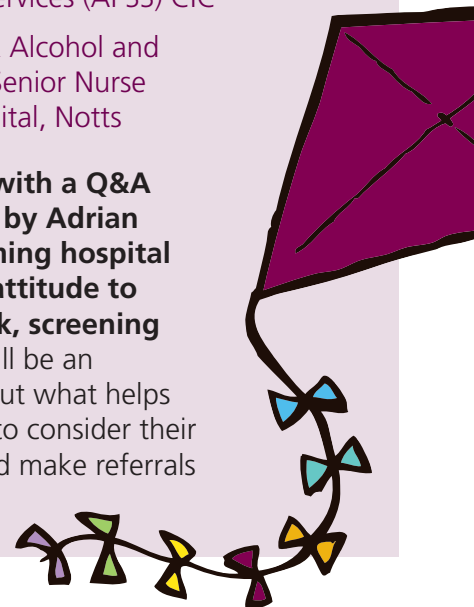

Details of previous seminars can be found at www.alcoholpolicy.net/2007/09/alcohol-liaison.html and www.hubcapp.org.uk/Presentations08.htm://www.hubcapp.org.uk/
