The event is designed to welcome all delegates, including those who have been regular members of New Directions and particularly those attending for the first time. Complementary pre-dinner drinks (alcoholic and non-alcoholic) are available. The emphasis is on meeting informally with as many of the other delegates, including established members, committee members and speakers, early in the conference. New Directions has always sought to promote active participation, because this improves our experience of the conference and helps develop personal, professional networks.

The New Directions in the Study of Alcohol Group (NDSAG) has provided a safe environment where alcohol practitioners, researchers & service managers have explored and debated contemporary challenges in the field since the mid 1970s.

Our 2012 conference reviews the continuing development of Motivational Interviewing led by one of the original authors: Professor Stephen Rollnick who is supported by some of the leading early adopters and developers. Other themes include the Recovery agenda, criminal justice interventions, and unveiling new research and approaches to alcohol problems including coerced treatment and Equine Assisted Therapy . A regular feature of our conference programme is the Alcohol Research UK (formerly AERC) research symposium.

We welcome new and returning members and delegates to the 2012 NDSAG conference in Llandrindod Wells: we will do our very best to ensure you find the experience stimulating and rewarding.

NDSAG reserves the right to amend the conference programme as opportunities and circumstances permit and require. Please visit our developing website where there is more information about the history of the group and of previous conferences and publications.
